Army Veteran Yinka Faleti is Democratic Nominee for Missouri Secretary of State

(St. Louis, MO)...On March 31st, Yinka Faleti became the Democratic nominee for Missouri Secretary of State. Faleti is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, a U.S. Army veteran, a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis School of Law and a former state prosecutor and nonprofit executive. He lives in St. Louis with his wife, Ronke, and their four children.

"We're excited to have a dynamic candidate like Yinka Faleti running to restore leadership in our Secretary of State's office," said Lauren Gepford, Executive Director of the Missouri Democratic Party. "Yinka proudly served our country in the U.S. Army and served Missouri communities as a leader in the non-profit space. We look forward to seeing Yinka continue to put the people of Missouri first as the next Secretary of State of Missouri."

"It is my deep honor to be the Democratic Nominee for Missouri Secretary of State," said Faleti. "The responsibility to tend to our democracy and ensure safe and secure access to the vote for all eligible Missourians - no matter their political persuasion - is one that I hold sacred. I am energized for the fight ahead and ready to bring to bear my leadership experiences in and since the Army to the office for all Missourians."
